When you were a student...

Cavanaugh Hall was your home.
Marching Band was your passion.
Lighting a Grotto candle was your weekly ritual.

...myNotreDame is your way to stay connected to your Notre Dame.

myNotreDame is the online community for alumni, parents and friends. Join a discussion group, read up on the latest University news and events, find your nearest Notre Dame club, and locate classmates and friends.

Stay connected, stay Irish, with myNotreDame.nd.edu.

If you were registered for Irish Online, your user name and password are valid for the new system. If you are not registered, register today to start taking advantage of all myNotreDame has to offer.

Town Hall Meeting

Friday, June 1, 1:30 –2:30 p.m.
DeBartolo Performing Arts Center

The Town Hall meeting gives Reunion attendees the opportunity to hear directly from top University administrators about the “state of the University” and plans for the future.

Join Rev. John I. Jenkins, C.S.C., president, and John Affleck-Graves, executive vice president, for an overview of University goals, recent institutional initiatives, and the campus master plan.

PLEASE NOTE: Tickets are free, but required, and will be distributed beginning at 12:30 p.m. at the ticket table in the DeBartolo Performing Arts Center lobby.
Continue the Notre Dame tradition of lifelong learning. Notre Dame Perspectives is a Reunion series featuring faculty and alumni experts discussing relevant issues of our time. Engage in stimulating discussion with panelists. Partnering with the College of Arts and Letters and Notre Dame Office of Gift Planning, Notre Dame Perspectives 2012 will feature the following sessions:

The Value of the Arts

Friday, June 1, 10:00 a.m. | Washington Hall, Main Stage

A panel of Notre Dame faculty will gather to address the “value” of art, looking at its ability to make the unseen seen, to inspire new ways of thinking, and to empower humankind. Whether it is a painting that captures developing changes in our culture, a lens by which we learn to see critical details in complex problems, a documentary that sheds insight into the cacophony of daily news reporting, or an organizing force in the community that advances education, the economy or your local community, art is a uniquely powerful form of both expression and provocation. Join professors Maria Tomasula (fine arts), Keith Davis (physics), Jim Collins (film), and Terry McDonnell (sociology) in what will be a wide-ranging discussion and Q&A session. The panel will be chaired by Chris Murphy ’92 of Catharsis Productions.

Sponsored by the College of Arts and Letters

MODERATOR: Christian Murphy ’92, Co-Owner, Artistic Director & Chief Operating Officer, Catharsis Productions

PANELISTS: James M. Collins, Professor, Department Chair, Department of Film, Television, and Theatre; Keith W. Davis, Director, Digital Visualization Theater; Concurrent Assistant Professional Specialist, Department of Physics; Terence McDonnell, Kellogg Assistant Professor of Sociology; Maria C. Tomasula, Michael P. Grace Professor of Art

Navigating Your Financial Future

Saturday, June 2, 10:00 a.m. | DeBartolo Performing Arts Center, Leighton Concert Hall

Are you interested in learning how financial markets and other factors impact individuals in the future? Come hear our panel of experts discuss the economic outlook and how it may impact your financial future. Topics to include: global markets, U.S. economy, short and long term trends, inflationary risks, debt outlook, etc.

Sponsored by Love Thee Notre Dame, a gift planning initiative

HOST: John Affleck-Graves

MODERATOR: Jack Brennan, Chairman Emeritus, Vanguard

PANEL: James (“Jimmy”) J. Dunne, III ’78, Senior Managing Principal, Sandler O’Neil + Partners, L.P.; Scott C. Malpass ’84, ’86 M.B.A., Vice President and Chief Investment Officer, University of Notre Dame

Compton Family Ice Arena Open House
Hosted by: Michael F. McNeill, Programming & Instruction Manager, Compton Family Ice Arena
The Compton Family Ice Arena is a new, on-campus, two-rink ice facility designed to help meet the needs of the campus and regional community and the Notre Dame Hockey program.
The main arena, with its traditional barrel vaulted roof supported by a series of bow trusses has a capacity of 5,022 patrons (seated and standing room combined) on two levels. The west (visitors) end of the arena is reserved for student and hockey band seating on both levels. Club seating, general admission seating, and the media center are also located on the upper level. Standing room areas are plentiful around the arena on both levels of the open concourse concept. The arena opened on October 19, 2011.
The new ice arena is located south of the Joyce Center, just north of Angela Boulevard, and just west across Leamy Drive from the new Irish track and field facility. The majority of the arena seating is of the chair-back variety. One of the rinks is Olympic-sized, 200’x100’ and will be devisable into 2, 100’x100’ cross-ice rinks to support the Irish Youth Hockey League, the USA youth hockey development model and intramural broom ball use. Public skating sessions as well as drop-in hockey, figure skating sessions, and even curling are programs offered, in addition to current offerings (women’s club hockey and figure skating, interhall hockey, physical education classes, etc.).

Offices, locker rooms, and training facilities for the Notre Dame Hockey program are located within the facility. The weight room within the building will be available for use by all Fighting Irish varsity athletes. Eight (8) auxiliary locker rooms are available for campus and community use of the facility. Locker rooms for officials and a visiting intercollegiate team are also part of the event level floor plan.

Tour Historic Cedar Grove Cemetery Featuring the New Our Lady of Sorrows Mausolea Complex
Hosted by: Karmin M. Meade, Services Coordinator, Cedar Grove Cemetery; and Leon Glon, Cedar Grove Cemetery Manager
Your tour begins in Cedar Grove Cemetery’s All Souls Chapel, one of the oldest original buildings on campus. Here you will learn about the cemetery’s origins dating back to its founding in 1843 by Rev. Frederick F. Sorin, C.S.C. Next you will enjoy a stroll through the beautiful, tree-lined cemetery as we highlight burials of interest within the cemetery’s original “old section.” The tour will conclude in the “new section” at the Our Lady of Sorrows at Cedar Grove Cemetery mausolea complex. The complex, named for the patroness of the Congregation of Holy Cross, was dedicated in July 2007 and provides Notre Dame alumni and members of their family with a variety of above-ground Christian burial options. Two new mausolea are currently under construction, bringing the total number of mausolea to four by the end of 2012. Cedar Grove Cemetery is located on Notre Dame Avenue, just south of the Hammes Notre Dame Bookstore. Tours begin at 9:00 a.m. and at 10:00 a.m. For more information, or to schedule a private tour, please call 574-631-5660.

A Journey with God in Time

Father Dunne has always been haunted by “the road not taken,” as Robert Frost called it, the road in life we could have taken and did not. In these last few years, he has come to believe that the road not taken can, in fact, rejoin the road actually taken in life. Come, let us rework Frost’s legendary poem! Fr. John has taught thousands of students during his more than four decades in the Department of Theology.

Being Atticus Finch

Hosted by: Notre Dame Law School

Presenter: Reverend David T. Link, LL.D., D.Lit., D.Sc. ’58, ’61 J.D., Joseph A. Matson Dean Emeritus and Professor, Law School

Atticus Finch, one of the main characters in Harper Lee’s To Kill a Mockingbird, is a man of principles who is consistent in his views and deeds throughout the novel, despite the town, Maycomb’s, criticism and intolerance. Throughout the novel he attempts to pass these values onto his children, Scout and Jem Finch. In this lecture we will explore the following sketches of this remarkable character:

As a lawyer fighting social inequality and intolerance, Atticus teaches us that, “[y]ou never really understand a person until you consider things from his point of view.”

As a parent providing moral guidance to his children, Atticus reminds us to “[s]hoot all the bluejays you want, if you can hit ’em, but remember it’s a sin to kill a mockingbird.”

As a man of his word, choosing to focus on the positive rather than the negative, Atticus “is the same in his house as he is on the public streets.”

“College and Heaven”: Notre Dame’s Imaginative Approach to Revitalize Urban Catholic Schools

Hosted by: John J. Staud ’87, Faculty, Professional Specialist, Sr. Director Pastoral Formation and Administration, Alliance for Catholic Education; Christian Dallavis ’97, Director, Notre Dame ACE Academies; Louis A. DelFra, C.S.C., ’92, ’03 M.Div., Director of Pastoral Life, Alliance for Catholic Education; and Sean McGraw, C.S.C., ’92, ’00 M.Div., Co-founder, Alliance for Catholic Education, Assistant Professor, Political Science

In 1993, Notre Dame re-entered the field of K-12 Catholic education after a 20-year hiatus when it established the Alliance for Catholic Education (ACE). Initially launched as a service through teaching initiative, the growth and success of ACE has spawned a wide variety of programs designed to support Catholic schools in the United States, including ventures in principal preparation, public policy, non-profit consulting, coaching formation, curriculum development, research efforts, and a national campaign to increase Latino enrollment in Catholic schools.

In ACE’s newest initiative, the Notre Dame ACE Academies (NDAA), every one of these projects is brought to bear on clusters of Catholic schools serving low-income families. This presentation will introduce the Notre Dame ACE Academy “all-in” approach to comprehensive school support, sharing the story of the pilot ND ACE Academy cluster in Tucson, Arizona, to describe a model for university-school partnership, teaching and learning, Catholic school culture, and school finance that will enable Catholic schools to sustain their legacy of providing high-quality educational opportunities to at-risk children.

Distinctive American Viticultural Areas of California, and the Wines That Define Them
Hosted by: Notre Dame Law School
Presenter: Andrew Waterhouse ’77, Professor, Enology
This will be a one hour exploration of distinctive legally defined AVA’s in California, and more importantly, AVA’s that are developing a reputation for making particular wines, particularly well. This will involve a number of regions including Paso Robles, Santa Lucia Highlands, Russian River, Dry Creek, Carneros, and Madera. The origins and significance of legally defined appellations will be addressed between tasting individual wines, as well as the future fate of appellations in the US. (Wine tasting reception follows in the Eck Commons.)

University Diversity
Hosted By: Black Alumni of Notre Dame
Presenters: Karen Kennedy, Vice President, Student Affairs; Representatives from Undergraduate Admissions and the Alumni Office; Student Body Representatives Ms. Emerald Woodberry, incoming President of the Black Student Association and Mr. Brett Rocheleau, incoming Student Body President
With the recent appointment of a new Chief Diversity Officer, Dr. Frances Shavers, the University provides a clear signal of its commitment to embrace diversity at Our Lady’s University. What is the University’s progress through the eyes of students, staff and alumni? And how can we work together to achieve the vision of a culture here that as Fr. John has said, reflects “a belief that every human being possesses the dignity of being made in God’s image, and every culture reflects God’s grandeur”? Join us to hear perspectives on all these questions and more from various members of the Notre Dame family. Our goal is to come away from this session standing on one platform for achieving this vision for Notre Dame, but also knowing how each person (especially alumni) can contribute to helping Notre Dame reflect the diversity it needs to.

Mission Statement

To further the University’s mission of faith, learning, and service by facilitating more meaningful lifelong relationships within the global Notre Dame family.

Overview

Formed in 1868, the Notre Dame Alumni Association (NDAA) furthers the University’s mission of faith, learning, and service by facilitating more meaningful lifelong relationships within the global Notre Dame family. Membership in the Alumni Association is automatic and free for all graduates of Notre Dame, and currently totals more than 130,000.

The Alumni Association has a three-prong structure – consisting of the Alumni Association staff, the Alumni Board of Directors, and various alumni communities. The NDAA staff handles the day-to-day operations of the Alumni Association and provides support to the Board and the ND alumni communities.

The Board of Directors sets priorities for the Alumni Association and represents Notre Dame alumni in communicating with the University administration. The board is composed of 29 directors and a president. Board members are elected by Notre Dame alumni for three-year terms, and meet on campus three times a year. The president and president-elect also serve on the University’s Board of Trustees.

Notre Dame’s thriving alumni communities provide a wide range of opportunities for socializing, networking, community service, spirituality, and personal development, and contribute to the rich alumni experience that is unique to Notre Dame. The alumni communities include 220 local Notre Dame clubs in the U.S.; 50 international clubs; undergraduate, law, MBA, and graduate school classes from 1930 to 2012; four Minority Alumni Networks; Young Alumni (graduated within the last 10 years); Senior Alumni (over age 55); and a host of other alumni groups bound by a common interest.
