NOTRE DAME PERSPECTIVES: Media, Tech & Society: Is a Sneaky Serpent in Your Newsfeed?
Discussions about fake news and media literacy in today’s changing environment.

10:30 am - 12:00 pm
Washington Hall

We’ve all heard about fake news, and likely experienced its ubiquitousness on social media. Even Pope Francis recently weighed in on the issue, likening fake news to the “sneaky serpent” in the Garden of Eden. The role of media and communication—from the relationship between the White House and newsrooms, to your daily newsfeed and its impact on your friends and family—is rapidly changing, and the impact is profound.

Join a panel of experts who will discuss a variety of topics, including real-world examples of the quickly changing media environment; the science behind fake news; and media literacy in an age of social media and misinformation.

PANELISTS: Caitlin Conant ’08, Political Director, CBS News; Katherine Corcoran ’81, Hewlett Fellow for Public Policy, Kellogg Institute for International Studies; former Associated Press bureau chief; Carlos Lozada ’93, Associate Editor and Nonfiction Book Critic, Washington Post; Notre Dame Gallivan Journalism program faculty; Tim Weninger, Assistant Professor, College of Engineering; expert in Media Disinformation

FR. TED SAID SPEAKER SERIES: Notre Dame’s Lasting Impact on Peacebuilding and Security
Thought-provoking talks by ND faculty and alumni that explore the world’s most pressing problems and honor the legacy of Father Hesburgh.

1:30 - 3:00 pm
Washington Hall

War, peace, justice, security, and human rights—these were some of the most pressing issues of Fr. Hesburgh’s time, and still persist today. Join alumni and faculty for short, inspiring talks, sharing examples of how they are building peaceful, just systems and societies; developing ways to prevent and resolve war; and impacting peace and security around the world—alongside Fr. Ted’s own vision and words.

HOST: Scott Appleby ’78, Marilyn Keough Dean, Keough School of Global Affairs

SORIN: A NOTRE DAME STORY
Sorin: A Notre Dame Story is a new, one-person play about the dawn of the University of Notre Dame as told by the intrepid Holy Cross priest who founded it, Rev. Edward Sorin, C.S.C. Directed by Patrick Vassel ’07—Associate Director of Broadway’s smash hit, Hamilton—and written by celebrated playwright Christina Telesca Gorman ’91, Sorin stars Matthew Goodrich ’09 as Father Sorin in a transformational performance that carries the audience through a sweeping journey of faith, character, and resolve. From his voyage to the United States to rebuilding Notre Dame from the ashes and more, this unforgettable play is a window into Father Sorin’s remarkable life and the astonishing history—and hopeful future—of Notre Dame.

Christian-Muslim Relations in History: Three Things Everyone Should Know

Christianity and Islam grow out of the same Jewish monotheism, but this presentation will focus on three crucial but even less widely known matters: 1) that they are also joined at the hip in other ways too, with the same philosophical tradition and theological language; 2) that, while there has often been violent conflict, there has also been continuous, amiable interaction and cultural borrowing between Christians and Muslims; 3) that much of the modern tension between the Christian and Muslim worlds is the result of non-religious factors.

PRESENTER: Thomas E. Burman, Professor of History and Robert Conway Director of the Medieval Institute

Discovering Your Career Sweet Spot

How well does your career journey align with your passions and purpose? Many of us trade off what we love to do for what we need to do—often for good reasons but without much contemplation. What if you could discover that sweet spot where work is both enjoyable and meaningful and then (re)set your direction? Join us for an enlightening and interactive session that’s for anyone—at any career stage—who is interested in reconnecting their work with their passion and sense of purpose.

PRESENTER: Mark Hamilton ’73, Leadership and Encore Career Coach

College Search and Admission Process Overview

Navigating the college admission process can be both an exciting and stressful time for a family. This session will give your family insight into the college search and admission process as well as course selection in high school, the role of standardized tests, how extracurricular activities are factored into the process, and what questions to ask as you consider colleges and universities. This presentation will also cover specific Notre Dame admissions information. Families will also be able to register their student to receive communications from Notre Dame.

PRESENTERS: Don Bishop ’77, ’85 M.A., Associate Vice President, Undergraduate Enrollment and Bob Mundy ’76, ’81 M.A., Director of Admissions

Does Your Work Matter to God?

We receive many strong and clear messages that our work matters in general, but fewer messages that this work matters from a faith perspective. To strengthen the link between Sundays and the rest of the week, this seminar will ponder questions, including whether and why God cares about what work we choose to do, what motivates us to do that work, how we measure success in that work, and the impact our work has on ourselves, our loved ones, and society in general.

PRESENTER: Joseph Holt, Associate Teaching Professor, Mendoza College of Business

Cosmic Convergence: How Notre Dame Researchers Witnessed the Science Magazine Breakthrough of the Year

In August 2017, in a galaxy 130 million light years away, the discovery of gravitational waves emitted by merging neutron stars literally shook the scientific world, and finally made it possible to understand the origin of the lower half of the Periodic Table of the Elements. And Notre Dame was there. Notre Dame Chair in Astrophysics Timothy Beers tells the exciting story of how he and two of his graduate students found themselves in Chile, participating in observations of the aftermath of the “kilonova” explosion associated with the merger. He will also tell the story of Notre Dame’s current exploration of individual stars in the halo of the Milky Way that will unravel the richness of the story.

PRESENTER: Timothy C. Beers, Chair of Astrophysics

Drug Detectives

Fake medicines wreak havoc in low and moderate income countries, and our own country is facing a crisis of opioid addiction and overdose. This hands-on activity will explore Paper Analytical Devices (PADs)—test cards that don’t require power, solvents, or expensive instruments to determine whether a drug tablet contains the correct medicines. Join Professor Lieberman and her students to analyze authentic and falsified formulations of medicines and use the cards to detect the types of functional groups found in illicit drugs.

PRESENTER: Marya Lieberman, Ph.D., Professor, Chemistry and Biochemistry

Navigating Your Career
DEBARTOLO CLASSROOM HALL, ROOM 129

Come see IrishCompass (Notre Dame’s official online community for networking, mentoring and job opportunities) in action and hear success stories.

The Power of Evidence: Transforming the Fight Against Poverty in America
DEBARTOLO CLASSROOM HALL, ROOM 131
Approximately 41 million people live in poverty in the U.S. despite the fact that we spend more than $1 trillion annually fighting this pressing issue. A key challenge is that there is little evidence on which programs are most effective at fighting poverty. Learn how the Wilson Sheehan Lab for Economic Opportunities (LEO) at Notre Dame is answering Father Sorin’s challenge to be a “powerful force for good” by partnering with nonprofits to conduct impact evaluations that identify innovative, effective, and scalable programs and policies to help people move permanently out of poverty.

PRESENTER: Jim Sullivan ’93, Rev. Thomas J. McDonagh, C.S.C., Associate Professor of Economics and Co-Founder of LEO

What Goes Up Might Not Come Down! Gravity, Orbits, and an Interstellar Visitor
JORDAN HALL OF SCIENCE, DIGITAL VISUALIZATION THEATER
In the fall of 2017, a rocky visitor was discovered passing through our solar system. ‘Oumuamua is the first asteroid we’ve discovered from outside our own planetary system, and it won’t stick around. It’s currently on a path that will take it beyond the solar system forever. With barely any other information than its trajectory, astronomers declared it an “interstellar” object—but how did they know? Join Dr. Keith Davis through a discussion of the orbits, gravity, and how a few simple measurements can convince us that ‘Oumuamua is from beyond the edges of our own Solar System.

PRESENTER: Dr. Keith Davis, Director, Digital Visualization Theater

Writing Thoreau: A ‘Masterpiece’ Biography
DEBARTOLO CLASSROOM HALL, ROOM 136
Hermit, gadfly, scientist, crank, teacher, saint—and one of America’s greatest writers: even Thoreau’s closest friends said he was too many-sided and mischievous to fit between the covers of a book. Yet each generation has tried. In the words of his latest biographer, “The Thoreau I sought was not in any book, and so I wrote this one.” Who was this Thoreau? Join Professor Walls as she describes how she wrote the life of an American icon.

PRESENTER: Laura Dassow Walls, William P. and Hazel B. White Professor of English
